- The link to the online console and completion date will be provided by Living with Reflux, in due course.
- You understand that failure to complete the online console by the date stated will result in a loss of place, and you will be liable to the minimum sponsorship of £350.
- You are in good health and fit to cycle the Prudential - RideLondon 100 miles and are aware that Living with Reflux takes no responsibility for any injuries or illness resulting from training or participation in this race.

- You are aware that your participation in the race has a financial impact on Living with Reflux, through registration fees and Cycling Jerseys.
- Please raise as much money for us as you can.
- Participants, sponsors, spectators and family who support you on the day are happy that Living with Reflux will be taking photos to promote the charity and future events via social media and advertising in order to raise awareness of children Living with Reflux.
